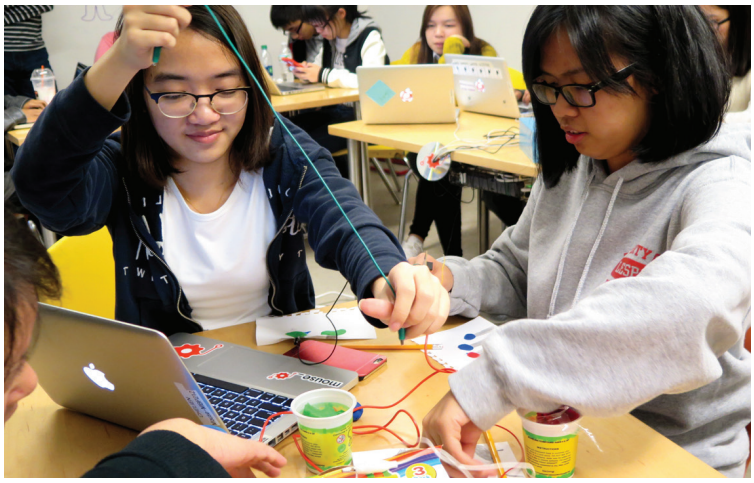
open maker events

Location:
55 Broad Street,
16th floor,
Financial District
Manhattan

Hosted by:
mouse_

Maker Nights

At Maker Night we bring together high school and professional makers under one roof to spend the evening building, crafting and designing with technology. Come create with coders, 3D designers, gamers, artists and makers from all over NYC. This is the perfect place to try coding, building circuits, making games or designing in 3D for the first time, or deepen your skills! You'll get to meet experts, learn new skills, meet cool people and take home something you made!



Sign up at
mouse.org/makernight

Upcoming dates:
3/15 4 – 6 PM, 5/4 4 – 6 PM, 6/14 4 – 6 PM

Maker Day

Maker Day happens twice a year to gather makers from Mouse programs and beyond to celebrate making. Maker Day is open to all nearby middle and high school students.

Maker Day gives you twice the time as our regular Maker Night to dig deep into coding, 3D design, or crafting something to take home. It's a great experience to get your hands dirty with technology for an afternoon and get creative. A perfect day trip for a tech club, Maker Day will feature activities from Mouse Create and more.

Sign up at mouse.org/makerday

Upcoming event: Saturday 4/1, 12 – 4 PM

Free event, free pizza, & free Metrocards!

email us: maggie@mouse.org